Title of Project: Development of web-based platform for education in Ophthalmology in Greece

Purpose: Since internet and distance learning is widely used for education, the purpose of this project will be to develop a web-based platform for the education in Ophthalmology.

Methods: The platform will include all fields of Ophthalmology with online lecture notes, streamed lectures, courses, e-books, images for practice, case report presentation, interactive video or presentations, and collaborative discussion via specific forum. The platform will be developed under the auspices of 2nd Department of Ophthalmology, National and Kapodistrian University of Athens, Greece.

Results: This platform will enable residents and other Ophthalmologists to have easy access to the learning material, as well as to check their knowledge through short examinations and quizzes. In addition, the prolific discussion will help to the improvement of training, especially for residents.

Conclusion: In the era of e-learning, the development of web-based platform for education in Ophthalmology will be a valuable tool for residents and ophthalmologists in Greece.
